

MAHJ WITH SUSAN | BETA PROGRAM

Your table is waiting.

A 5-week beginner Mahjong program for women who are ready to do something for themselves.

You have spent years showing up for everyone else.

The kids. The family. The endless to-do list. And somewhere along the way, the things that were just for you got smaller and smaller.

Maybe you have watched other women play Mahjong and thought: I want that. Not just the game. The laughter. The table full of women who are genuinely happy to be there. The sense of belonging to something.

But then the voice in your head says: I would have no idea what I am doing. Everyone else already knows how to play. I would feel stupid.

I hear that. And I want to tell you something.

Every woman at that table started exactly where you are right now.

Introducing the Mahj with Susan Beta Program

A 5-week online beginner program that takes you from your very first tile to confidently sitting at the table and playing a real game of American Mahjong.

Every lesson builds on the last. Every week you can do something you could not do the week before. And you learn inside a small, warm community of women who are right there with you.

No experience needed. Not one tile.

This program is for you if...

- You have always wanted to learn Mahjong but never known where to start
 - You are craving connection and community with other women
 - You want to learn at your own pace without feeling rushed or left behind
 - You are ready to do something that is purely, completely for you
 - You want a teacher who will never make you feel stupid for asking a question
-

Here is what you get

5 weeks of pre-recorded video lessons

Short, focused modules delivered to you every Monday via a private link. Watch on your own schedule, as many times as you need. Each week builds directly on the last, following Susan's proven teaching framework: Some Deals Create Pretty Magic.

Weekly live Q&A; with Susan

Once a week you join Susan live on Zoom. You pre-submit your questions ahead of time so nothing gets missed. Susan answers your questions, walks through a confusing hand on screen, and makes sure you feel ready for the week ahead.

Weekly self-directed game nights

Starting in week 2, you play real games with the other women in your group on an online platform. Susan groups you into tables of 4 and you play on your own schedule over the weekend. This is where the confidence actually builds.

Community access

Your own private space to ask questions between sessions, share your wins, post a hand for feedback, and connect with the other women in your group. This is where the relationships happen.

A bonus wrap-up session

At the end of the 5 weeks Susan hosts one final live session to bring everything together, answer every lingering question, and send you off to your table with confidence.

What you will know by the end

- Every tile in the set and what it means
 - How to set up a game from scratch
 - How to play through every phase: the Charleston, pick and discard, and calling Mahjong
 - How to read the NMJL card and choose the right hand
 - Joker rules: how to use them and the mistakes to avoid
 - How to score, how payment works, and proper table etiquette
 - How to pivot when your hand is not working and play with confidence anyway
-

About Susan

I am Susan Siegel. I am 55 years old, a mom of two, a stepmom of two, and a grandmother with another grandbaby on the way.

A few years ago both of my kids got married within ten months of each other and moved out of state. In what felt like an instant, the season of life I had organized everything around was over.

I found myself asking the questions I suspect you might be asking right now. What do I do with my time now? Who am I outside of being a mom? And the harder one: how do you make real women friends at this age, when most of the friendships you had were built around your kids and their activities?

Mahjong gave me my answer. It gave me a table to belong to. It gave me women who became real friends. It gave me something that was entirely, unapologetically mine.

I have since taught hundreds of women to play in person and on Zoom. I know exactly where beginners get stuck. I know which rules trip everyone up. And I know what it feels like to sit down at a table for the first time and wonder if you belong there.

You do. And I am going to show you why.

Investment

Beta founding member price

$97

Full launch price: $197

Limited to 12 women. When the group is full, doors close.

As a beta founding member you get:

- The full 5-week program plus bonus wrap-up session
 - Weekly live Q&A; with Susan
 - Weekly self-directed game nights
 - Private community access
 - Direct input into shaping this program for the women who come after you
-

Ready to take your seat?

This is a small group by design. Twelve women. Three tables. A community that actually knows your name.

You do not need to know anything to start. You just need to show up.

Your table is waiting.

Click here to enroll now — $97

Questions? Email susan@mahjwithsusan.com

Mahj with Susan | mahjwithsusan.com | @mahjwithsusan

Learn. Play. Mahj.